DETAILED ACTION

Objection to the Disclosure

37 CFR 1.163

The following is a quotation of section (a) of 37 CFR 1.163:

(a) The specification must contain as full and complete a disclosure as possible of the plant and the characteristics thereof that distinguish the same over related known varieties, and its antecedents, and must particularly point out where and in what manner the variety of plant has been asexually reproduced. In the case of a newly found plant, the specification must particularly point out the location and character of the area where the plant was discovered.

35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

As specific to United States Plant Patent applications, the specifics of 37 CFR 1.164 (reproduced below) are controlling:

The claim shall be in formal terms to the new and distinct variety of the specified plant as described and illustrated, and may also recite the principal distinguishing characteristics. More than one claim is not permitted.

In plant applications filed under 35 U.S.C. 161, the requirements of 35 U.S.C. are limited. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 162:

No plant patent shall be declared invalid for noncompliance with section 112 of this title if the description is as complete as is reasonably possible. The claim in the specification shall be in formal terms to the plant shown and described.

The disclosure is objected to under 37 CFR 1.163 (a) and under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, because the specification presents less than a full, clear and complete botanical description of the plant and the characteristics which define same per se and which distinguish the plant from related known cultivars and antecedents.

Art Unit: 1661

More specifically:

- A. Applicant should provide a comparison between the claimed plant and each of its cited parent/antecedent cultivars.
- B. On page 4, line 9, applicant sets forth the height of the claimed plant as 6 to 8 inches [15.24 – 20.32 cm]; Table 1 on page 3 sets forth the height of the claimed plant as 25 cm. Correction of this discrepancy is needed.
- C. Page 5, line 11, applicant sets forth the length of the leaves of the claimed plant as 3 inches [7.62 cm]; Table 1 on page 3 sets forth the length of the leaves of the claimed plant as 7.5 cm. Clarification of this discrepancy is needed.
- D. Applicant should provide the typical and observed flower depth and flower diameter for the flowers of the claimed plant; it is unclear whether the measurement provided for flower size on page 6, line 5 is intended to convey diameter, depth or something else.
- E. Applicant should provide the typical and observed floral tube diameter.
- F. Applicant should provide the typical and observed petal length.
- G. Page 7, lines 11 and 13, applicant sets forth two lengths for the buds of the claimed plant, 3.5-4 cm and 35 mm. Applicant should delete the second recitation, as it appears to be only partially accurate and is also redundant to the degree it is accurate.

The above listing may not be complete. Applicant should carefully compare the claimed plant with the botanical descriptions set forth in the specification to ensure completeness and accuracy and to distinguish the plant within this expanding market class. Any further botanical information should be imported into the specification, as should any additional or corrected information relative to same.

Art Unit: 1661

Claim Rejection

35 U.S.C. § 112, 1st and 2nd Paragraphs

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first and second paragraphs as not being supported by a clear and complete botanical description of the plant for reasons set forth in the Objection to the Disclosure Section above.
